Thank you narendra singhQ: Add a new column in table without altering the value of existing one I have a existing table (table1) which has the following values in two columns (ID and Name). ID Name 1 John 2 Adam 3 Sam I would like to add a new column 'Value' to the table based on the value of the first column. The table should end up like this: ID Name Value 1 John 100 2 Adam 200 3 Sam 300 All the existing rows with the same ID should have the same value in the new column. I tried to add the new column by this: ALTER TABLE table1 ADD Value INT; But it overwrites the existing value in the Name column for all the rows with the same ID. I would like the value for the Name column to stay the same. A: Please try ALTER TABLE table1 ADD Value INT; UPDATE table1 SET Value=ID; Q: How to use conditional parameter mapping for a WCF web service? I have a WCF web service method [WebMethod] public void GetData(string param1, string param2, string param3) { ... } I have a normal WCF 82157476af
